I dont understand that

I wouldnt let my girlfriend or fiance even to add strangers on facebook..Im not even talk about cell phone or hanging out.. I dont understand that.. I think Im so jeolous.. I dont know.. I would take care of that.. so much..

I can not understand how to be relax that much.. Im talking about your lovely fiance :) I think its about culture.. I would love like everything about my life.. I wouldnt want someone to look at you like I would look at.. its my perspective.. as I said is about Culture..

to be honest with you, it sounds a bit odd to me what you said, like I feel that you probably took it too seriously. I just want to make sure you understand that it can be only friendship perspective, as I have a fiance. So if you want to meet for a talk/walk/coffee you can leave me your email or cell, whatever is easier for you, and I'll let you know. Take care.
