Greetings Sir,

Chris purchased additional oleanders for the spot, which have been planted. Per Chris, everything that was cut back, as well as the new plantings, will fill out and will not be as "leggy" as it was before. It will be much fuller - between 60 and 70 days.

They had to cut the windburn out of a lot of the plants around the island, so everything for now will look less fuller than it was.

Respectfully, Daphne
