What is the most overrated pleasure? Why?

Hạng-Minh Nguyễn, Dreamer at heart. An astute observer. A Peter Pan soul.

Clubbing. By which, I mean going to a bar/club that has a dancefloor and loud music, order some drinks and dance the blues away. Sounds good? Not so much. You will soon get tired of the loud music, then all the strangers dancing around. Music is too loud to have a decent talk with anyone, so we end up “partying” without verbal interaction. I find it boring and exhausting. Read More »

Do cats get emotionally attached to their owners like dogs?

Dan Holliday, I read.

83.5k views

“Like dogs”? No. They get attached to their owners like cats. They’re fundamentally different creatures. But that doesn’t mean they’re not attached. Cats are socially connected to their environment. It’s why most of them do not enjoy going for long walks on a leash, being transported in the car. It’s why, when you change something in your house substantially, they freak the fuck out. They’re ev... Read More »

What are some of the biggest challenges surrounding user-generated content platforms?

Nirav Tolia, Co-Founder and CEO of Nextdoor

74.9k views

The largest challenge for user-generated content platforms is the “cold-start” or “chicken and egg” problem. You can find a number of resources that go into great detail on this problem, both on Quora (Chicken and Egg Problem (Social Startups)) and the web at-large (How to solve the cold-start problem for social products). After you have some traction, you can move on to considering some of the m... Read More »

What is the real reason for the July 2016 Turkish Coup attempt?

Denis Oakley

65.8k views

My wife is Turkish and her reasoning goes something like this: Erdogan has struggled to become a dictator legally - through changing the constitution after getting enough votes/MPs in elections - so he is now trying a different approach. The coup is a False flag and will allow him to crush all opposition without regards to any legal niceties (not that many remained). It is the Turkish equivalent o... Read More »

Are Chinese taking over the world?

Elton Zheng

88.3k views

No, because the world has already taken over China.

The 'World' as we know it today is largely created by the Americans in the 19th and 20th century with some help from the Western Europeans and the Japanese.

China, as a distinct and influential entity has largely ceased to exist by the turn of this century.

Let me explain -

1. Which Chinese city is this?

Did Melania Trump's speechwriters plagiarize Michelle Obama's speech? If so, why?

Richard Muller, Prof Physics, UC Berkeley, author "Now, The Physics of Time" (Norton, 2016)

Melania Trump is 100% guilty—the fault can't be blamed on her speech writers. Yet in a larger sense she is a victim, someone to be forgiven. Let's not project our disdain for Donald on Melania. Like Donald, she is in a position for which she is woefully unprepared, but unlike Donald, she didn't thrust herself into this position, but was thrust into it by her husband. I have come across many cases... Read More »

Do lobsters die of old age?

Christina Lemieux
35.2k views

While lobsters don't live forever, they do age in a unique way that makes them almost seem immortal. As they age, lobsters continue to grow, become increasingly fertile, and retain their strength and metabolism. Researchers have also discovered that, unlike the cells of most species, including humans, the cells of lobsters apparently don't have a fixed lifespan. Because lobsters continue to g... Was Daenerys justified in allowing Drogo to kill Viserys?

Kelsey L. Hayes, I am a grammar cowgirl
45.9k views

Apart from Viserys threatening to cut Dany's unborn child out of her (which, some people would say she was justified in allowing Drogo to kill him for that alone), the sentence was actually out of her hands.

At this point in time, Drogo and Dany and their entourage are in Vaes Dothrak, the only actual city in the Dothraki civilization. In order to maintain peace within the city (these are a b... Read More »

What caused the Zoroastrians to flee from Iran?

Pegah Esem, I may know a few things
14.3k views

 If we put aside those who became Muslims willingly, There were 4 groups of Zoroastrians back then:

- Those who became Muslim without even knowing what is Islam, only to avoid the conflicts
- Those who became Muslims because they followed whatever the noble men of their cities did.
- Some became Muslims for the sake of their life (now that some of you may disagree, I give an example)

This is the face of Kh... Read More »

Is Luke Skywalker the most powerful Jedi who ever lived?

Andy Anderson, sits in chairs
48.6k views

Within the context of the old Expanded Universe, maybe. He eventually developed very significant powers.

Just going off the movies, there are a limited number of candidates that we see.

- Luke - gets the best of RotJ Vader. Has very strong Force-sensitivity, developing significant ability with relatively limited training.
- Yoda - one of the most Force-sensitive Jedi to ever don the robes. Leads t...
