 Good Health Starts with KNOWING

May 2017

 Spring is wonderful. But seasonal allergies? Not so much.

Spring is wonderful.
But seasonal allergies?
Not so much.

If you or a loved one are experiencing any of the following symptoms, they could be signs of an allergic reaction.

 We can help you KNOW,
so you can find relief sooner.

Request the right allergy test

Our ImmunoCAP® blood test series can screen for hundreds of allergens in adults and children as young as 3 months old, including allergies caused by:

- Animals
- Plants
- Foods
- Materials like silk or latex

Allergy symptoms

According to the Asthma and Allergy Foundation of America, allergy symptoms may include one or more of the following:

- Itchy, watery eyes
- Itchy, runny nose
- Sneezing
- Rashes, such as eczema
- Stomach cramps
- Hives (a rash with raised red patches)

Relief begins with the right diagnosis

Testing, not guessing, helps you and your doctor know if your seasonal symptoms are a one-time cold, a chronic allergy, or another condition.
