Happy holidays Jeff!

SO many great things you do for people and for educational purposes but why do you pervert young girls, influence them, manipulate and make them do what you wanna them to do... naive young girls just like myself. But life is full of lessons so i loved to learn with you!!!!!! The three other girls who wanted to come and meet you were afraid after they checked online, they told me.....reputation in this world means a LOT

Anyway,
Great projects

news:

I am working on law degree in french this time and being a girlfriend (=wife, hate it, want to devote my youth to my studies, to myself), doing Masters at la Sorbonne, working on my emotional stability which is the most important (Mr Buffett mentioned once) and figuring out working opportunities for the the Russian-French future lawyer... maybe specializing in the World Trade Organisation law since Russia just entered this organisation and not many russian specialists speaking and knowing european law in this subject.. i will see and learn. MGIMO ([REDACTED] went to) is a great school I think in order to represent Russia at UN or any other international organisation in the future you understand what it is to be young and beautiful and travelling the world with the Russian National Team without seeing your family since the age of 13.... SO many questions we ask ourselves, young generation!!

Thanks for your lessons Professor of everything and hi to Cute [REDACTED] PS: i remember the last talk we had. I have close friends in Moscow who can do jewish documents if you bring them a copy of this judaism origins certificate (you know russia...everything can be done there and there are less rules!!), if [REDACTED] wanna marry her boyfriend, its a cool thing to try.

hugs my favourite sugardaddy professor

Yours,
