interesting email from stephanie..

well written but also felt a bit like a preacher...

i know everyone is busy but seems strange that Cash is finding all issues not Stephanie / Kyle or anyone else..
also not sure how she does not know trash vendor when she processed bills for 6 months with karen and supposedly karen reviewed how to run island when she left..

Greetings Stephanie,

Attached please find the invoice from TDR Transport Services for trash removal in December 2018. The contact information on the invoice is as follows [REDACTED]

Mike and Boscoe should be able to provide insight into TDR's service quality, reliability, etc. as they are the ones who have had direct interaction with the contractor.

Hi, Rich.

Yes, delegation is imperative to good management. Anna had an opportunity to be part of the solution and elected not to, but it wouldn't have mattered anyway. The barge was booked today and is booked through tomorrow afternoon--Mirrors from ProGlass (JE request), Generators off island (Mike's promise to JE, so expected), Ambulance to Red Hook for Maintenance (JE Request), Excavator from GSJ to LSJ for the Palms, and a delivery via Sherwayne for lumber for the collapsed rotten retaining wall at the top of the bench seating next to the tiki. We were meant to get Bryan's Plants for Dupson but we ran out of time, so that will be picked up tomorrow after the Tropical shipment (Gemini and Palms). Landscapers and heavy equipment will be very busy tomorrow.

In other news for today a sanded coat was added to the GSJ dock because it was slippery and dangerous. It is finished. The tiki floors on GSJ are finished along with some other painting on GSJ. Kyle will work with carpenters to get the awning up tomorrow. Painting in the divisions - walls and shelves for rust, floors epoxied - all JE request, is going on now. Rough-in for lighting at LSJ tiki is complete. Cypress is here and ready to go in. In other news JE told the guys to eliminate rusty tools and replace them. We are going to need a lot of tools. We emptied out most of cabana 4 and covered the large furniture as Reefco was set to do some cutting in the cement board and we were warned it would be dusty. At day end I learned of the broken coral stone at the chillax corner. I wish I could tell you what happened, but I have yet to pin down a witness or confession. What I do know is that the coral stone is very fragile and has a sizeable unsupported lip on it. I believe it needs to be reinforced from beneath to make it less vulnerable. I was feeling under the coral stone in another section down from the break and could feel it move/bend with little pressure from my bare hand. Also at day end the leaking a/c unit in Cabana 2 was covered. Those poor floors just can't catch a break. Housekeeping got straight to mopping it up and a fan is on it now. Reefco was already on site and was sent immediately to check it out. They said the unit was completely frozen and there was a clog in the drain. They will be back tomorrow to assess. We'll be keeping an eye on that tonight as it thaws and the water collects. And according to Anna's report, the road work was completed at GSJ. One of the guys proudly sent me a photo.

Daphne, could you please share with me the contact information for who we use for the trash removal? Any wisdom you can share will be appreciated as this will be the first time I've addressed this here.

Thank you,
Stephanie

What is Jules putting in the dumpsters? Mike has already said he was coordinating trash pickup for next week as LSJ is also due. We usually use heavy machinery to compress it in the bins first. Can you check to see if this has already been done?

Hi Stephanie,

GSJ trash bins are full.

Can you please schedule a Trash run for GSJ ASAP?

Jules need an empty trash bin to complete GSJ Cleanup. Both bins on GSJ are full

Thank you,
