

&n= bsp;

=20 Hi babe how are you?

=20 thought you might like this as an idea for your island, as i'm= working on finding works for the sculpture park at Blenheim, i though= t i'd pass

=20

=20

=20

=20 o= n a few idea's i thought the Roxy Paine tree, particularly as it looks like= it has been ripped from it's roots already (you don't need a hurricane) al= so it has a very futuristic earth 2050 feel to it which i thought was very = you. can't bare the idea of you living in tile city how ever classic and hi= storic it might be, I away's thought of you as more apocolyptic. =

=20

=20

=20 Roxy Paine

=20

=20 Roxy Paine is one of the most important young sculptors today. His= tree-like mechanical sculptures, the =E2=80=9CDendroids=E2=80=9D series to= y with assumptions about nature vs. culture and organic vs. artificial. For Paine, the Dendroids represent an attempt t= o observe trees as a language governed by rules and structures and reflect = his thoughts on human encroachment on the environment

=20

=20 Ok so you no his works are in most of the greates= t museums.... De Pont Museum of Contemporary Art, Hirshhorn Museum and Scul= pture Garden, Israel Museum, MoMa, San Francisco Museum of Modern Art= , and the Whitney Museum of American Art.

=20 So why not on your Island????

=20

=20

=20

=20 Assistant to Annabelle Neilson and Francesc= a Amfitheatrof

=20 Hoffman Hall

=20 50B Buttlesland Street

=20 Hoffman Square

=20 London N1 6BY

=20

=20 T. +44 (0)207 608 2646

=20 F. +44 (0)207 253 7555

=20

=20

=20 =C2=A0

=20

=20 =C2=A0

=20

=20