All users now have access to both N909JE and N212JE. They each have new alerts set up for N212JE that match their current alert setups for N909JE.

You can review the current account set up by clicking on the My Selective Unblocking link at the top of the site to see if any other changes need to be made.

Best regards,

Andrew

Yes I agree and approve of what Lesley indicated.
Set up N212JE same a
Other accounts, with public blocking as we have other aircraft.
Thx

N212JE is now active on your account and the new user has been added as well. Is N908JE ready to be removed from the account all together?

Each user has their own customized settings for the alerts for N908JE.

Would you like the alerts for N212JE to be set up in the same manner as the current ones, or will they need new alert criteria now?

Best regards,

Andrew

Andrew I'd like to have N212JE blocked for public access also,

Please add N212JE to alert profile for all current people, plus add this email address:
