I need to see the samples...when it comes in separate pieces my mind is not equipped to imagine it! Did you get the pictures I sent from houzz? I love them both...I sent to [REDACTED] also and he likes too...they are simple and nice and I think would work for the house..

I can't find ES14...
I like LK4..

Hard for me to really 'grasp' the idea however with just the pics...I will look at houzz today also for moldings

Lk4 is a nice plain casing one piece. You may want to add a back band which is a second piece added to the casing and it makes it larger and thicker. The back band would be ES14
