Lesley,

Both are very good brands, with the rebates the Thermador deal gives you a lot more and overall will price out better yes, and the free dishwasher, right?

I know Sub Zero and Wolf have a deal going on as well...in your professional opinion, do you think Sub Zero/Wolf is a better way to go than Thermador? Or both are considered very good appliances? Also, when it comes down to it, will Sub Zero/Wolf price out more expensive than Thermador? thanks

The Subzero BI48S/S/TH is $9,499, but when you do the Thermador that qualifies you for the free hood.

Attached is the updated quote. I did not put a model number for the hood because you have a few options but how the program works is with the refrigerator you get any Thermador hood for free. I also used the dishwasher that is free in the program but they do have upgrades if you want a different model. Any questions let me know.

Hi Jim....

thanks for the info...I want all the appliances in stainless (no panels)...the fridge should be without the water dispenser on the outside....and I prefer the one with the louvers...I also prefer the pro handle over the masterpiece. Also, do you have a delivery charge? Double ovens is fine ...30" one oven convection, no rotisserie...

Fridge Model: T48BR820NS

In order to qualify for the Thermador rebate you need to add a double wall oven to the order. With the double oven and cook top you get the dishwasher model number DWHD410 for free. By adding the refrigerator you then will get the hood for free. We do carry the 48" Thermador refrigeration, they are coming out with new model numbers thats why you do not see them on the web site and I am expecting my information on the new models today, so once I get that I will add that to the quote for you. Do you want stainless steel or are you going to put a panel on the refrigerator and do you want the dispenser on the out side. Also what hood are you interested in?

Thanks. I'm actually interested in the "deal" thermador has going on (i need a dishwasher and hood). Also, can you get their 48" side by side fridge with the louvres at the top? I don't have the item # handy. ..I didn't see it on your website. Thanks
