That is actually a good point about Coach Evans camp. I would think he wouldn't want to have his camp the same time as football camp as many of same kids do both. I will work on the Bahamas deal. Right before you book your stuff let me know what you find for room rates, etc. I could maybe then present that to Pat and see what he says. If you want me to do the legwork on it I could too but I would rather you pick when and exactly what you want to do in the case that we don't end up going. Let's hold our a little longer on Chelsea Piers and then if we don't fill that week we can go that route...unless you think it may fill up which it could.
