

To: [REDACTED]
Cc: [REDACTED]
From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Tue 2/12/2013 12:55:44 PM
Subject: Re: How's your snow project?

Ok on train to NY now... Yes we were just fine thru the storm. It started snowing around 9am fri and never stopped till after I went to bed! Ty and I ran around and did errands during the day and watched a movie that night ... Ike continued on with his poker night at a friends house! We were lucky. Don't get me wrong, it's tons of snow and I'm not a huge fan but it is manageable. Like ash said however other towns were hit hard. So hard that our superintendent cancelled school yesterday because she said there were too many bus drivers and teachers living in these areas who couldn't get to work. She got a huge backlash of complaints and had to send out an email mid day explaining how and why she decided to so what she did. Our kids have missed so much school this year it is crazy. Ty went sledding sat and sun with Ike and had a total blast!

Ash sorry you lost power. At least it was in the middle of the night and only for a couple of hours!!

Mom, our pipes froze in our entire house a couple of weeks ago and the heat stopped working the same morning. It just couldn't keep up with the load demand. It was like 2• degrees outside! I had emergency plumber and oil guys come and they were able to fix...$1500 later. What fun it is living in the north east! Love , les

Sent from my iPhone

On Feb 11, 2013, at 7:59 PM, [REDACTED] wrote:

we were fine -- we lost power for 2 hours during the middle of the night -- so no consequence. All the activities that were scheduled for Saturday just moved to Sunday -- easy -- but LOTS of snow for sure -- almost 2 feet here in Bedford --- ridiculous amounts in towns that some of my colleagues work in (48 inches!) -- crazy

Ashley Taylor
Taylor-Hull Promotions

www.imprintablefashions.com/thpromo

----- Original Message -----

Subject: How's your snow project?
From: "Diana Wright" [REDACTED]
Date: Mon, February 11, 2013 7:48 pm
To: "Ashley Taylor" [REDACTED]

<lesley.jee@gmail.com>

Is everybody OK? Love mom